

Hello all:

This is the first newsletter of the Deborah Coyne nomination campaign. With the conclusion of the provincial election, and a very welcome result – congratulations to Bob Chiarelli and his winning campaign – the nomination race is now in full swing as we prepare for the 2015 federal election.

As yet there is no indication from the Party when the nomination vote will take place: it could be in a few weeks or perhaps September, but that remains speculative.

While some of you may have already decided which way you will be voting in the nomination, many of you remain undecided.

To assist you in your deliberations, please visit my website – www.deborahcoyne.ca – for my statement on why I am running, my endorsements, my blogs and articles, and other information such as community activities and photos.

I believe we can and must do politics differently by engaging citizens in our democracy. We all need to work together to build our great country. No one should feel left behind. That's why I'm seeking the Liberal Party of Canada nomination in Ottawa West-Nepean. That's why I want to join Justin Trudeau's team.

To run as the Liberal candidate in Ottawa West-Nepean means coming home for me, back to the great city of Ottawa where I was born and raised, and where I have lived and worked over the years. I intend to campaign hard to earn the trust and support of the constituents of Ottawa West-Nepean. If elected, it will be my honour to serve and represent the constituents of this wonderful community in Parliament.

I am reaching out with regular canvassing to meet all the members of our riding association in order to learn your concerns, answer your questions and earn your support for my nomination as your next federal Liberal candidate.

I am also reaching out to new supporters and signing up new members of the Party. The key to a successful nomination campaign is of course to sign up new members who will come out to vote when the Party establishes the date.

You can follow me on Twitter @DebCoyne, and on Facebook.

You can reach me anytime at 613-219-4292 or at deborah@deborahcoyne.ca to speak to me or arrange to meet at your convenience.

For those current members who wish to support me, I am readily available to attend any gathering at which you could introduce me to friends or neighbours who might be potential supporters interested in joining the Liberal Party.

I am also holding a pub night at the Firkin and Knight, 1460 Merivale Road, on Thursday, July 10th, 2014, starting at 7:00 pm. It would be great if you could attend.

In addition, there is a fundraiser on Thursday, July 17th, 2014, 5:30-8:00 pm, hosted by Ottawa lawyers, Leslie Kirk and Alicia Natividad, at 354 Gladstone Avenue (2nd floor party room). Come for enjoyable conversation, cocktails, and appetizers. The guest speaker is Shari Graydon.

The funds raised go to help retire my remaining leadership debt and the $75.00 ticket qualifies as a tax deduction.

I look forward to the opportunity to meet and speak with you in the near future.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Deborah Coyne
